Please consider historic designation for this beautiful mid-century modern building. Much of our architecture of this style is considered too “new” to warrant saving-an attitude I think we will come to regret in future. Milwaukee needs to do more to preserve our built environment and here again is a perfect example of a building that could be preserved and repurposed by a thoughtful developer.

P.S. How about a historic bungalow district like Chicago has? While I’d love my neighborhood (Bay View) to be designated such a district, there are many others in Milwaukee that are worthy candidates.
