Thank you for the prompt response. I was at work, and wasn't able to fully follow the meeting. I sold the house at 2279 N Summit Avenue to the original developer. I was in full knowledge that the property was going to be torn down. The property was in my mother's estate, and I had to do what was in the best interests of the family. I originally had hoped it would be sold to a young couple or young professional and be renovated. That is why I so strongly support this historic designation. However, the original developer, in the course of negotiations, informed me that he could build a six story condo up to my lot line, and because he had an offer on the house to the south, he would build a fancy two story unit up to the lot line on the other side of me. It was clearly the correct decision simply to sell it to him, rather than see the property value plummet because of the situation.

I will accept whatever is the outcome, but as I was raised in the house, I would like to see a family in it. As well, as a resident on Ivanhoe Place, I'm opposed to adding more cars in the neighborhood. It's become extremely congested.

I believe someone stated "We are losing the neighborhoods one house at a time." I hate to see that happen in our neighborhood.

Sincerely,

Ann Lobotzke

Is there a way to get a transcript of the meeting granting temporary historic designation to the houses on Summit Avenue? Or the materials presented?

I fully support the temporary and permanent historic designation for the houses located at 2275 and 2279 N Summit Avenue. They are also representative of the houses of that vintage in the Northpoint South area, if less grand than some of the others.

I reside at 2116 E Ivanhoe Place, on the same block.

Sincerely,
