Dear Carlen,

Thank you for meeting with me. You asked me to send you a formal email asking for a continuation on our business before the Historical Preservation commission. My husband and I literally just closed on the house last Friday and we are still in the process of getting our business in order and figuring out our options as far as the roof repair is concerned. So we are not ready to meet with the committee yet. Thank you for your understanding and help as we get familiar with all of the details and challenges involved in owning an historical house.
