As requested, the RWB Transom Sign Building Photo, with the proposed Ironwork Grid/Sign superimposed over the Transom Window.

Off to the right side of the transom window is a blue rectangle, which would represent an additional Projecting Sign that the customer is also requesting.

Not sure if this would be allowed, but wanted to ask anyway. It is either 48" or 36" diameter, and is double side with internal illumination.

I take it that you are wanting me to show you the sign on the building.

I can do that, but I will have to send it to you on Monday, as I have today off.

So look for it on Monday.

Can I take you up on the proposal below? I think it will help clarify.

Thank you.
