04 DHAWAN, Mandeep, Agent for "Youvraj Group, LLC", Extended Hours Establishment renewal application for "Youvraj Group" at 714 N. 27th Street. (Expires 4/30) Special Letter

Applicant at the table, 714 N. 27th St., as is Ald. Bauman. Atty. Michael Maistelman appearing as counsel.

Atty. Maistelman objects to the police report due to quadruple hearsay and objects to some items on the police report as being irrelevant due to them not occurring during the extended hours.

Atty. Maistelman also objects to the consideration of the items that were not previously listed on the police report due to an administrative error. Ald. Bauman objected to the omission of any items from the police report based on the time of occurrences.

Ald. Bohl requests that only the incidents on the police report that occurred between the extended hours period be read into the record, but the entire police report be made part of the record and the individual members read the record and interpret it for themselves.

Sgt. Ulickey explains that the reason all items on the report are usually read is because they go to the ability of the licensee to operate a business.

Ald. Witkowski moves to make the entire police report part of the record. Prevailed 5-0.

Neighborhood objector present:

Keith Stanley, 624 N. 24th St., Main Street Manager for the SoHi District. He says that panhandling and loitering is a major problem at the location. He also said a camera has been installed on 27th Street and it is focused, at times, on the gas station.

Ald. Dudzik asked if the problems in the area would be eliminated if the business were closed. Mr. Stanley says no, but he says that the business contributes to the criminal activity in the area.

Mr. Stanley said that new businesses are not moving into the area because of the criminal activity and that he is having trouble recruiting new businesses.

Neighborhood supporter:

Pamela Olive, 3414 W. Wisconsin Ave., says that the problem is not the gas station, but Wisconsin Avenue. She says that she feels safe at the gas station and that the business being open from midnight to 5 a.m. is a necessity.

Ald. Witkowski asks Ms. Olive how often she shops at the store during the extended hours. She says she shops there couple of times a week during those hours.

Ms. Olive says that she shops at the gas station instead of the twenty-four hour

Walgreens a block away because she does not feel safe at the Walgreens.

Ald. Bauman asks Ms. Olive if she received a notice for the meeting. She says yes, and Ald. Bauman pointed out that she was outside the radius for notices being mailed. Ms. Olive says that she was handed a notice about the meeting but did not receive it in the mail.

Nola Crawford, 2731 W. Juneau Ave., is in support of the license. She says that the store is convenient during the extended hours and she feels safe there. She also says that she does not see loitering at the business.

Shirley Buchanan, 423 N. 29th St., is in support for the license. She says that panhandling and prostitution are everywhere, not just at the business location and it is not the fault of the business owner.

Sonny Valentine, 2526 W. Michigan St., patronizes the business during the extended hours. He is in support of the license.

John McQuay, 2504 N. Clybourn St., is in support of the license.

Adrian Williams, 4344 N. 84th St., says that what is happening at the gas station does not reflect on how the licensee is running the business. He says that he has consulted with the licensee to try to help him curb the panhandling.

Ald. Bohl asks Mr. Williams what the plans are specifically for improving the establishment. Mr. Williams says that cameras have been added and there are plans for improving the landscaping.

Andre Jelks, 2731 W. Juneau Ave., is in support of the license. He is in support of the license and says that the extended hours are convenient for him.

Atty. Maistelman asks Mr. Jelks if he has witnessed any of the activity listed in the notice during the extended hours period. Mr. Jelks says no.

Robert Burns, 2417 W. Kilbourn Ave., is in support of the license. He says he shops at the store during the extended hours and the licensee will let him have products on credit if he does not have sufficient money.

Columbus Green, 2809 W. Juneau Ave., says that he supports the license because it is convenient for him because he does not have transportation and the establishment is well-lit.

Atty. Maistelman asks Mr. Green if he has witnessed any of the activity listed in the notice at the establishment during the extended hour period. Mr. Green says no, but he says that he sees the activity on the street during the day.

April Hancock, 925 N. 75th St., is in support of the license.

Michael Jackson, 2929 W. Wisconsin Ave., says that he has never had any problems at the location when he shops there during the extended hours period. He says that he has been panhandled at the gas station a few years ago.

Carland Gordon, 624 N. 32nd St., is in support of the license. He says that he has never seen any of the activities listed in the notice at the location during the extended hours.

Jasmine Swift, 2829 W. Wisconsin Ave., is in support of the license.

Clifton Olive, 3002 W. Howard Ave. #5, says that if the location were closed during the extended hours, there would be more criminal activity in the area because the lights from the gas station would not be on.

Robert Hagler, 2729 W. Juneau Ave., says that he has not seen illegal activity at the location when he shops there during the extended hours period. He says he feel safe there.

Marcus Blackmore, 533 N. 26th St., says that he has seen panhandling and prostitution in the entire area, including at the establishment, but it is the job of the police to take care of the activity and is not the responsibility of the licensee. He says that the hours accomodate him.

Regina McDaniel, 2829 W. Wisconsin Ave., is in support of the license.

Dwayne Jones, 401 N. 31st St., is in support of the license.

Valerie Blackmore, 4821 N. 22nd St., has a son who lives in the area and is in support of the license.

Jerome Thomas, 2409 W. Kilbourn Ave., is in support of the license.

Jeffrey Williams, 2505 W. Kilbourn Ave., is in support of the license.

Rickey Buchanan, 821 W. 24th St., is in support of the license.

Reginald Thomas, 1433 W. Highland Ave., is in support of the license.

Dan Wilson, 2830 W. Wells St., is in support of the license.

Alexander White, 2829 W. Wisconsin Ave., is in support of the license.

Ray Buchanan, 529 N. 25th St., is in support of the license.

Michael Lewis, 2731 N. 39th St., has friends in the area and is in support of the license.

Christian Willingham, 3217 W. St. Paul Ave., is in support of the license. He says that the extended hours should be allowed because the establishment provided safety for him when he was the victim of an attempted robbery and that is provides safety in the neighborhood.

Reandra Buchanan, 529 N. 25th St., is in support of the license.
