NID No.1 is requesting approval to move forward with the replacement of the neon lighting that is currently being used to illuminate the Historic Pabst Bridge signs that crosses over W Juneau Ave at 10th Street. While this is completed, we would also be repainting the exterior and interior of each letter casing with paint matching the current color present. We would be removing the neon lighting components and installing new, LED light strips. The Aurora Flex RGB lighting strips is said to be the best alternative to neon lighting. The light strips themselves would be laid out within the letters in the same location as the current neon lines and during non-illumination times, there would be no visual difference. During illumination, the average person will notice very little difference. A trained eye to this product may notice that the new LED is a true red color and not the orange-red that is currently present. This is due to clear glass and neon gas that is present. Attached you will find the spec sheet of the lighting, the layout of the strips, as well as the specific colors that will be used during painting.
