I know there aren't enough police, but if we are to pay way more for liscence and registration fees those of us who do what the law says are sick and tired of people driving around with no plates and temporary tags that are in the back windows or altered dates or no dates at all. I've also seen two vehicles this week with tinted front windows that you couldn't see thru. I don't know what the chiefs view on this stuff is but there seems to be no enforcement on this matter.
