Bio:

Shortly after the purchase of his first property in 1996, Mike partnered with long-time friend, Christopher Adams to found property management and development company, Dominion Properties. Together, they own a growing 260 apartment units, scattered throughout Milwaukee's East Side. Mike is the networking, big picture guy and creative visionary that every good partnership needs. While he's just as willing to get his hands dirty as any other member of the Dominion Properties' team, he likes to focus on fostering relationships in the Milwaukee business and real estate community. His background in political science and mortgage banking helps him analyze situations, make good business decisions and build quality relationships. Mike also co-leads the company's green initiatives and development of sustainable apartment brand, "Sage". Together they have developed Wisconsin's first LEED Platinum Certified apartment building, Sage on Jackson, with development plans of several others underway.
