HUD Consolidated Plan What We Learned

2025-2029 HUD Consolidated Plan: Key Findings

1. Over the past 15 years, the city's population has remained fairly stable (577,000-592,000) and the demographic makeup continues to evolve.
 - A growing share of residents now identify as non-white, largely driven by significant increases in the Latino/Hispanic population.
2. The legacy of past redlining practices and persistent segregation contributes to entrenched economic and racial disparities.
 - For example, non-white workers have earned $5 less per hour than white workers, with homeownership gaps further exacerbating wealth inequality.
3. While the City's median household income has increased over the past 15 years, the poverty rate has not decreased at a similar rate.
4. The interconnectedness of employment opportunities, economic security, and housing stability is present in all areas of the Plan.

Housing Needs

1. Housing affordability remains a pressing concern.
 - Over 40% of the households in the city are housing cost burdened (spending 30% or more of their income on housing). See NA-10
2. There is a mismatch between housing units available that are affordable for low-income households.
 - This puts pressure on both “naturally-occurring affordable housing” stock and housing supported by public subsidy. See MA-15 and MA-40.
3. As housing cost burden increases, so do other housing problems such as overcrowding, quality, risk of eviction and/or homelessness.
4. Over 42% of Milwaukee’s housing stock was built before 1940, resulting in a steady need for home repair, maintenance, and energy-efficiency resources.
5. Groups such as seniors/older adults, people with disabilities, justice-impacted people, veterans, immigrants and refugees, unaccompanied youth, and people living with HIV/AIDs have other (special) needs that contribute to overall housing insecurity.

Other Community Needs

1. Community safety and health needs carried through all community input.
 - Building neighborhood trust, illegal dumping, preventing displacement, creating safe, responsive housing solutions, access to healthy food, and recreational spaces
2. Addressing legal and systemic barriers that prevent people from accessing living-wage jobs and other economic opportunities.
3. Strengthening investments made in commercial corridors, supporting small businesses, and improving neighborhood conditions.
4. Connecting community assets to support young people and addressing barriers to accessing youth programs such as affordability, transportation)
5. Address the condition of streets, sidewalks, lighting, and other public infrastructure needs.

There is a Focus Groups Summary table available that provides additional detail.

What's In the Plan

2025-2029 HUD Consolidated Plan Strategy Areas

From Strategic Plan Goals Summary \(SP-45\)

Goals

Provide job training and employment placement to 400 residents, with a focus on opportunities in skilled trades and other industry-specific opportunities that boost employment and living wage jobs for low- and moderate-income individuals.

Where in the Consolidated Plan?

- MA-45 Non-Housing Community Development Assets

- SP-70 Anti-Poverty Strategy
- Community Survey Results

With a lower median household income and higher rates of poverty and unemployment, ensuring access to economic opportunity for City residents guides many of the strategies in the plan. Milwaukee has significant racial disparities when it comes to median household income, median wage, and unemployment rates.

Assets & Opportunities

1. Employ Milwaukee, the workforce development entity in the City, utilizes sector-based strategies, promotes regional partnerships among employers, educators, workforce development agencies, philanthropic entities, and other stakeholders to address both skill and employment needs.
2. Active apprenticeship and skilled trades programs that target both youth and adults, and also help individuals earn a high school diploma or equivalent.
3. Metropolitan Milwaukee Association of Commerce and Greater Milwaukee Committee both have a number of initiatives that target talent retention and workforce engagement.
4. Nearly 30 entities/programs in the Milwaukee area that are focused on offering career education, technical training, employment opportunities and other workforce development services.

Main Strategies

1. Expand economic opportunity by targeting local and Federal resources toward concerted efforts to create/retain jobs and reduce unemployment and underemployment.
2. Increase median household income for families living in poverty through access to employment/training, income supports, and other services that promote job stability and retention.
3. Support sector-based training, education, apprenticeships, skilled trades, and transitional jobs programs to increase workforce skills.
4. Increase investment in public infrastructure and planning that improves connectivity to services (broadband, transportation) that improve economic opportunity.
5. Continue to align economic development and workforce strategies with other jurisdictions in the region ("Milwaukee 7") through plans such as Growing Prosperity, Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy (CEDS), MKE United Greater Downtown Action Agenda and other City Area Plans.

The authors recommend that everyone read ES-05 Executive Summary which provides insight and offers suggestions of how to effectively utilize the Consolidated Plan.

Community Feedback

In the Community Survey, Employment Services (Job Training & Placement) was rated as the highest need in Economic Opportunity at 49%. Focus group sessions also indicated the need for better access to transportation, wraparound services to support employment programs (soft skills, child care, mentoring), increased pay and benefits, and building off of past investments in commercial corridors. Additionally:

1. Priority should be given to job training/employment programs that provide a livable wage and reduce barriers to employment.
2. Continued investment in financial wellness/education programs and services and efforts that improve workforce mobility (transit/transportation).
3. Programs and services should also address the economic impact of COVID-19 on city residents and business to support long-term recovery.

Top Needs

1. Expansion of employment, placement, and job training services, particularly those that offer opportunities to earn income at the same time.
2. Support of workforce mobility and poverty reduction programs that offer key wraparound services.
3. More jobs in sectors that offer livable wages (going beyond the Federal minimum wage) and other family-supporting benefits.
4. Investments in Milwaukee's regional transportation system that improve workforce mobility.
5. Improved access to high-speed internet broadband in underserved areas of the City, to ensure residents can navigate daily life (i.e. applying for a job, work from home, telehealth, school, supplies).

Covid-19 Related

The COVID-19 public health crisis is a complex challenge that continues to generate economic impacts putting more residents and families at risk for financial insecurity. These effects have had a disproportionate impact on low-income households and communities of color, exacerbating existing racial and economic disparities. Early indicators reveal that the City's business and employment landscape has already been altered in significant ways, particularly for sectors such as hospitality, food services, arts, entertainment, recreation, personal care services and retail. Responses to these challenges will require sustained investment. The availability and use of federal funds through economic relief packages such as the CARES Act, American Rescue Plan Act (ARP), and infrastructure are providing critically important resources to support the City's long-term recovery.
