Summary of Interview with Samia Ahmed, 8-16-19

By Angelyn Ward

Samia Ahmed was referred by a MYC member who plans to attend Amherst University. Samia lives in District 12.

She attends Ronald Reagan College Preparatory HS, District 13. As a senior this year, will take 7 classes, Monday thru Friday, 7:30am until 2:45pm. School started Monday, 8-12-19. And she has a strong interest in seeing how things work, enjoys physics, math and engineering. See attached resume for her extra-curricular activities in and out of school. And she has a strong interest in Art design; creating, designing, reflecting through compare and contrast, <https://samia-ahmed.weebly.com>

The primary qualities she brings to the MYC involve listening to gain a perspective on how to achieve the common goal. She feels that leaders should express with eyes and ears versus a mantel. She's passionate about looking at the interest of the total group.

Details and expectations were explained about the MYC: Attend meetings twice a month, 2nd and 4th Wednesdays at City Hall, 4:30 – 6:30pm; Participate in community events, leadership conferences as needed; Allocate funds to youth organizations thru a competitive review; Meet and dialog with other youth groups, locally; Executive committee members attend an annual national conference in Wash DC; Work in partnership with Council Members, the Mayor and other groups and organizations.

MYC is composed of 15 members and 2 At-Large, and serve a one-year term or more. She is strongly interested in being a member, does not have any transportation issues. At this time she prefers to be a member-at-large.
