The owner of this single family home is proposing a two-story rear addition that is intended to be cohesive with the architecture of the existing home and to be complimentary to the architecture and historic character of the surrounding district.

The materials and design of the addition are intended to blend with the existing home, including:

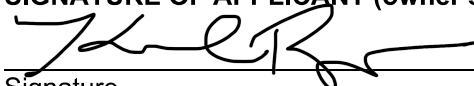

- New brick with surface texture to match existing and stained to match color of existing
- New stucco at second story of the addition to match stucco of the existing home
- New awning roof over side door inspired by the design of the existing awning roof over the back door
- New dimensional asphalt shingle roofing material to match the existing roof. The roof pitches will match the existing, and the roof lines are designed to be as simple as possible geometrically.
- New prefinished aluminum gutter to match existing

A new/reconstructed roof dormer will be reconstructed in the same general vicinity as the existing roof dormer, reoriented toward the southeast to work with the new roof line of the addition. The purpose of the existing and new roof dormer is to provide ample head height to an existing stair.

On the north elevation, there is an inset where the addition meets the existing house, in order to break up the massing of that facade. The brick pattern is Flemish bond on the inset portion of the facade, distinguishing it from the running bond of the rest of the house.

Please refer to the attached drawing set, which further describes intended materials, design, and dimensions.
