I am 57 years young and extremely excited about the future. I am happy to share this cherished accolade.

Looking back on my life journey which began as a young professional with a career in electronics engineering that led to a career as a construction electrician. Each step of my career was necessary for me to become the man that I am today. Today, my family and I own and operate successful businesses which include a wedding venue www.3041north.com , an urban country club and a series of other businesses that support my community development vision. I support Integrity, legacy and proactively adding value to urban areas we invest in.
