

Silletti, Leslie

---

From:
Sent: Monday, December 01, 2008 12:27 PM
To: Silletti, Leslie
Subject: resume

EMPLOYMENT: 1995-2007—Urban landscape writer and architecture critic, The Milwaukee Journal Sentinel; 1984-1995—editorial writer, The Milwaukee Journal; 1967-1984—environmental writer, editorial writer and editorial page editor, The Capital Times (Madison, Wisconsin). Other: Lecturer, University of Wisconsin-Madison School of Journalism and Mass Communication; writer and broadcaster, UW-Madison Sea Grant Institute.

EDUCATION: BA, with honors, in art history and German, UW-Madison; graduate work in art history and architecture, Columbia University; Nieman Fellowship in architecture and urban history, Harvard University.

HONORS: 2008—Honorary affiliate member, AIA Wisconsin, a society of the American Institute of Architects; "Whitney Gould Day," May 29, 2008, proclamation by Mayor Tom Barrett; "Gertie" Award from Milwaukee Riverwalk District. 2007—"Thoroughly Modern Whitney," profile in Milwaukee Magazine (August). Awards from Scripps Howard Foundation, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Wisconsin Historical Society, Wisconsin Trust for Historic Preservation, Wisconsin Newspaper Association, Milwaukee Press Club, Women in Communications, Wisconsin Natural Resources Foundation.

PUBLIC SERVICE: Member, Milwaukee City Plan Commission, 2008-present; member, Board of Visitors, UW-Madison School of Journalism and Mass Communication, 2002-2007; member, Madison Landmarks Commission, 1977-1984; workshop lecturer, American Press Institute, Poynter Institute; public speaking.