Subject: RE: DOT land and assessment by the city

Dear Alderman Witkowski,

We have never assessed land that is not owned by a property owner. As long as the land is not deeded to the adjacent property owner it will not be assessed. In fact, I do not think it would even be legal to assess land to a property that is not part of its legal description.

I hope this answers your concerns.

Mary:

A few constituents feel that they will be taxed on the DOT land that will be available for their use if a sound wall goes up. the DOT will NOT sell the land to adjoining property owners. Please shed some light.
