To whom it may concern:

In reply to your letter dated on May 16, 2001, I will be appealing your decision.

Because no one else complained prior to my vehicle sustaining damages, doesn't mean that the problem didn't exist.

Maybe if more people did complain this type of problem wouldn't exist.

Respectfully,

Jacqueline Byrd

To whom it may concern:

On February 26, 2001, I had just left 6th and chambers coming down to 7th and Concordia to get on the ramp, when my vehicle hit a couple of potholes around 8:20pm. Hitting the potholes caused two flat tires on the passenger side of my vehicle. Both tires, front and back came off the rim. The front tire was cut from hitting the pothole.

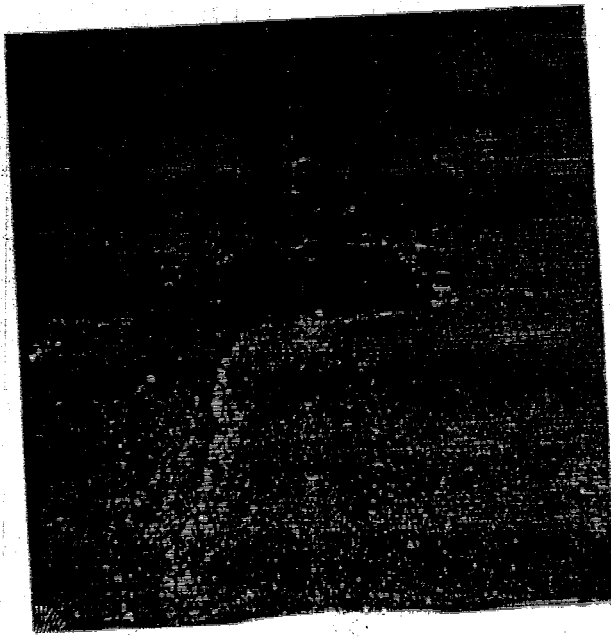

As we waited for the tow truck, another car came along and hit the same holes and his front tire was also cut and damaged. The police came and I gave them all the pertinent information. My name, address, phone number, and the year and make of my vehicle, which is a 1999 cavalier.

The day the pictures were taken, 2/28/2001, the holes were already filled.
