Hello, my name is Robert Canady and I'm speaking out against the data center. We don't need or want a data center in the old Walmart at midtown. We need more community centers, more grocery stores, and more places for children to grow and develop. Data centers have been notoriously ruining neighborhoods and poisoning its citizens that live around them. Even the jobs it might create are temporary, we need real businesses there where real people can work, stay safe, and get their every day necessities
