As Vice President, Tom oversees the asset management of the firm's portfolio of owned commercial, healthcare, mixed-used and industrial properties nationwide. In this role, he leads all marketing, leasing and property management efforts for Irgens' projects. Tom implements industry best practices that maximize the value of stakeholder's real estate investments, valued at more than a half billion dollars. He is instrumental in identifying opportunistic real estate acquisitions and dispositions that will continue to position the firm as a market leader, and also assists in the company's new development opportunities in the Milwaukee area.
