Hello my name is Fern Diaz and I'm a long time Milwaukee resident. I believe putting a data center in the middle of a residential neighborhood lacks any consideration or foresight into how negatively this will effect the community surrounding the site and city as a whole. Data centers don't provide local jobs for more than the time that they are constructed. They hoard and waste materials, resources and don't provide tax revenue for the city. It's just a massive money laundering scheme. There's nothing in it for the city and it just hurts our residents. The infrasound caused by data centers has also been linked to numerous health issues. With led pipes, and outdated infrastructure already affecting so many residents this just adds to the list of things making Milwaukee difficult to survive in.

Best,

Fern Diaz
