To whom it may concern-

On February 05, 2001 I was bringing up my garbage cans from the street to my driveway before going to work, I noticed a blemish on my car. I went to work around 9 o'clock that morning, not thinking anything of it, but when I went to get my car washed at my lunch hour, I noticed a scratch where I saw the blemish earlier. The first thing I thought about was how this could have happened. After pondering over it for a while, I thought maybe it could have happened while the garbage men pulled out the cans from the driveway. When I went home that Monday afternoon, I took some pictures of my car, and some with the garbage cans, which line up exactly to the scratch line. I just moved into town, and after I read (from the city) that residence does not need to bring their garbage to the street through the winter, I thought that was great. I know that I pay taxes for this to happen, but if I had known that something like this was going to happen, I would have taken the garbage cans to the street every week. My car was purchased in January 2000, and for this to happen on my own driveway is unacceptable. Since this incident, I have had to get 2 estimates, type a letter, hope that this would be taken care of without getting any attorneys involved. I hope that you would take the time to review the pictures enclosed, and see that this was clearly a mistake, and that I would be reimbursed for the scratch on my door. Thank you and I look forward to hearing from you soon.
