

Bio Rae J Johnson

Rae J. Johnson (they/she) is a powerhouse in marketing and communications. Rae currently works as a content writer at Esri, the global leader in geographic information system technology and location intelligence. With a rich background in public relations, marketing communications, and government relations, Rae brings invaluable expertise to the Commission. A passionate spokesperson for equity and inclusion, Rae has made significant contributions professionally to Milwaukee County and various non-profit organizations. A proud Milwaukee native, Rae achieved a major milestone in 2020 by purchasing and renovating a city-owned home with the support of Acts Housing. Today, Rae serves on the board of directors of Acts Housing, promotes water safety as an Aquatics Ambassador with the Milwaukee Parks Foundation, and leads Boy Scout Troop 15 based in Shorewood, WI. Rae resides in the Lindsay Heights neighborhood with her partner, Tarik Moody, their son, Elijah, and beloved pets, T'Challa and Zorro.