Re: Report of the Utilities and Licenses Committee of the Class "B" Tavern License held by Michael DeSautel on the complaints of Craig D. Plain, Agapito Cruz, Eugene Vlies, Shirley Chiaverotti, Susan Prothero, and Janet, Gerald and Pamela Breitzman, seeking the revocation of the Class "B" Tavern License for the premises located at 4177 South Howell Avenue in the City and County of Milwaukee, Wisconsin ("Daddios").

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. Michael DeSautel, (hereinafter the "Licensee") as agent for Mr. Entertainment, Incorporated, is the holder of a Class "B" Tavern License for the premises located at 4177 South Howell Avenue in the City and County of Milwaukee, Wisconsin ("Daddios "). Said license expires at midnight May 13, 2002, having been renewed by the Milwaukee Common Council on May 8, 2001.
2. Complaints seeking the revocation of said license were filed with the Office of the City Clerk by Craig D. Plain on October 8, 2001; Shirley Chiaverotti on October 8, 2001; Susan Prothero on October 8, 2001; Janet, Gerald and Pamela Breitzman on October 8, 2001; Agapito Cruz on October 9, 2001; and Eugene Vlies on October 8, 2001.
3. On October 10, 2001, each of the complaints were served on Michael DeSautel with a summons containing a copy of each complaint as well as of § 90-12 of the Milwaukee Code of Ordinances.
4. Said summons commanded the appearance of Michael DeSautel to answer the complaints of Craig D. Plain, Shirley Chiaverotti, Susan Prothero, Janet, Gerald and Pamela Breitzman, Agapito Cruz, and Eugene Vlies on October 16, 2001 at 8:00 a.m. in Room 301-B of City Hall. Mr. Michael DeSautel as agent for Mr. Entertainment, Incorporated appeared and answered the complaints as summoned and was represented by Mr. Andrew Arena, Kopp, Arena & Bishop, S.C., 1110 North Old World Third Street, Suite 515, Milwaukee, WI 53203.
5. Based upon the sworn testimony heard and the evidence received at the hearing, the Committee finds the following:
 - A. Craig Plain is an adult resident of the City and County of Milwaukee, Wisconsin residing at 4178 South 1st Street, in the City and County of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

- B. Every weekend Mr. Plain has trash in his yard which includes beer bottles, liquor bottles, cups, cigarette butts, cigarettes lighters and wrappers all generated by patrons of "Daddios".
- D. Mr. DeSautel or employees of Mr. DeSautel have emptied beer bottles into dumpsters late at night causing noise that have awakened Mr. Plain.
- E. Michael F. DeSautel has experienced Lazer 103 and its giant "boom box" blaring outside of his establishment late at night, causing Mr. Plain to be disturbed.
- F. At closing time crowds of patrons yell, scream and fight when leaving the Premises, cause disturbance to Mr. Plain.
- G. Michael F. DeSautel has attracted loud and raucous patrons to his establishment with advertising phrases such as "Daddios-Where anything goes." The supplier of DJ entertainment explained to the Committee that the phrase really referred to any type of music played. The Committee notes the double entendre of the remark suggesting to patrons that any conduct goes.
- H. The bass of the music played at "Daddios" is so loud that vibrations shake the home of Craig Plain.
- I. Craig Plain has observed the security firms hired by Michael F. DeSautel for the premises at 4177 South Howell Avenue "Daddios". The security firms park in a car kiddy corner from the home of Craig Plain. On the weekend of March 10th and 11th, 2001, Craig Plain observed patrons in a car parked in front of a security car leave a Heineken bottle in the street. Also on the weekend of March 10th and 11th, 2001, there were three plastic cups from "Daddios" left on the curb in front of 4177 South Howell Avenue. Craig Plain observed that trash stay there until Saturday afternoon when he picked it up, and not any individual employed by Mr. DeSautel.
- J. On Thursday, March 8, 2001 at approximately 3:00 a.m., Mr. Plain was awoken by a driving bass beat which was emanating from a karaoke player employed by Michael F. DeSautel at ("Daddios") playing music while loading a karaoke machine into his van. While this was transpiring, Mr. DeSautel was at the side of the karaoke player, and did nothing to quite him.
- K. On Friday, March 15, 2001 at 1:30 a.m. Craig Plain was finishing work and getting ready for bed. He heard a noise and looked out to see a young man urinating in Daddios parking lot in full view of the street light. When finished, he entered a friend's car and was driven away.

- L. Mr. Plain knew from advertising that on Saturday, April 21, 2001, Michael F. DeSautel had a band known as "Eddie Butts Band" playing at the premises known as "Daddios".
- M. Mr. Plain observed that Mr. Michael F. DeSautel had several uniformed security guards on hand for the event.
- N. At 11:50 p.m. on Saturday, April 21, 2001, a group of women were yelling back and forth as they exited "Daddios" and walked to their cars in the parking lot, causing Mr. Plain to be disturbed.
- O. At 12:05 a.m., on Sunday, April 22, 2001 a group of four Harley Davidson motorcycles with three "chopped" or no mufflers, parked in front of the home owned by Craig D. Plain. These individuals revved their engines for close to five minutes as the staff of "Daddios" talked to them about parking elsewhere. When they finally left, they revved their engines loud enough to awake the children of Craig Plain.
- P. At 12:15 a.m. on April 22, 2001, two cars pulled in front of the home of Craig Plain. As they stopped, they threw garbage onto the lawn of Craig Plain and began yelling back and forth from one car to another car. The staff of "Daddios" finally got them to move, but all they did was pull around the corner to 1st Street. Two men and two women exited the vehicles and then walked around the home of Craig Plain yelling all the way.
- Q. At 1:10 a.m. on April 22, 2001, a group of patrons stood outside the home of Mr. Craig Plain yelling to others in the parking lot of "Daddios". The security staff employed by Mr. DeSautel stood by smoking on the corner of 1st & Plainfield. The security staff never approached the boisterous patrons. The yelling went on for approximately five minutes, causing disturbance to Mr. Plain.
- R. At 1:25 p.m. on April 22, 2001, the two men and two women referenced in item Q above, came out of Daddios. The two men came out running, one yelling "you fucker!" to another. The staff of "Daddios" and what appeared to be bouncers responded and got them to settle down and left. After the security personnel and bouncers left, the group of four sat on their car hoods, which were parked on 1st Street. They sat for approximately 10-15 minutes drinking from what appeared to be a pint bottle by passing it between them. They were swaying, and Craig Plain felt it was doubtful if they were able to drive. The staff of "Daddios" approached the second time at which time they all entered into one car and left.

- S. At 1:45 a.m. on April 22, 2001, a group of males pulled into the parking lot of "Daddios". They horsed around on their way into the establishment and set off a car alarm. The alarm went off for over two minutes. At that time, a motorcycle with no muffler parked in front of Daddios. The children of Craig Plain were awoken by the noise of this incident.
- T. At 2:35 a.m. on April 22, 2001, another car alarm went off and ran for approximately two minutes waking individuals up, to include the family of Mr. Plain.
- U. At 3:00 a.m. on April 22, 2001, there were two groups of patrons yelling back and forth as they left "Daddios". They stood in the parking lot of "Daddios" for awhile talking loudly but the security personnel kept an eye on them. This conduct disturbed Mr. Plain.
- V. At 3:30 a.m. on April 22, 2001, Craig Plain was up and working. He heard yelling on 1st Street. The two men and two women from incidents P and R, above, came back. They came back to get the one car that they had left behind. One male was trying to take the clothes off of one of the females. She was so intoxicated, she almost allowed him to do it. The other male decided to relieve himself by urinating in the street. Eventually, one of the females convinced the other female to get in the car and go. The individual who was attempting to undress the one female was yelling loudly after the two females as they drove away. The two males got into their car and then squealed into the night.
- W. The security guards left cigarette butts on the lawn of Craig Plain from the incidents of April 21/22, 2001.
- X. On May 1, 2001, at approximately 12:40 p.m. Craig Plain experienced beer bottles and plastic cups left by patrons of "Daddios" on his driveway.
- Y. On the weekend of June 16th and 17th, 2001, Craig Plain and his family were awoken numerous times by noisy patrons leaving "Daddios".
- Z. On Friday evening-Saturday morning, June 15/16, 2001, a drunken group exiting "Daddios" took turns on small motorcycles and motorbikes racing up and down Plainfield Avenue.
- AA. On Saturday evening, June 16/17, 2001, a group of four intoxicated males were yelling and arguing with several intoxicated females. Craig Plain called the police out of concern because the males threatened the females.

The males, after the females left, stayed in the vicinity of their car and drank beers. The police never showed up.

- BB. Over the weekend of June 16/17, 2001, Craig Plain saw patrons urinate on a neighbors lawn and a large amount of trash was brought out from patron by patrons of "Daddios". This included 8 beer cans, 4 plastic cups and other assorted garbage.
- CC. On July 11, 2001, the Craig Plain family experienced disturbances at closing time at "Daddios".
- DD. On Saturday, September 22, 2001, Mr. Plain was disturbed by the smell of stale beer leaching from dumpsters located in a driveway of the premises of 4177 South Howell Avenue ("Daddios"). The stench of the stale beer was so bad that Mr. Plain and his family could not sit in the back yard. Pictures were introduced into the record showing a wet area that Mr. Plain asserts was the beer. Mr. DeSautel attributes the wetness to ground water. It is clear that a liquid was coming from under the dumpsters, and Mr. Plain distinctly recalls that the liquid smelled of stale beer. The Committee believes Mr. Plain.
- EE. On September 30, 2001 at 12:15 a.m., Mr. Plain was awakened by a loud group of patrons entering Daddios. Mr. Plain also saw a group of three young males sitting in a Sedan lighting up a small pipe and passing it to each other. Mr. Plain called the police to report suspected drug activity. While Mr. Plain was talking to the dispatcher the three left their car and entered "Daddios." Mr. Plain told this fact to the dispatcher, and she asked if he still wanted a squad to respond. Mr. Plain inquired as to whether or not these officers could do anything, and the dispatcher stated "not really." However, she also indicated that a report would not be filed unless a squad came out. Mr. Plain requested a squad to ensure that the action was documented, however, no squad responded. Further, there was no security from "Daddios" that Mr. Plain observed during this incident.
- FF. Also on September 30, 2001 at approximately 1:00 a.m., while trying to get back to sleep, Mr. Plain heard a loud thumping noise. Mr. Plain realized that the thumping was coming from Daddios, and he called in a noise complaint. To the knowledge of Mr. Plain, the police never responded.
- GG. On Sunday, September 30, 2001 at approximately 12:45 a.m., Mr. Plain was again awakened by loud patrons. He observed several patrons leaving Daddios with plastic cups and beer bottles which were thrown on to the lawn owned by Mr. Plain. Within a span of approximately 30 minutes, Mr. Plain saw three separate incidences of public urination, two beer cans being thrown into the street by patrons of Daddios' as they drove away, and a large number of large people playing stereos loudly. Mr. Plain saw no security personnel from "Daddios."

- HH. At approximately 1:30 a.m. on Sunday, September 30, 2001, Mr. Plain began to notice a large number of people exiting the bar. One person who was leaving was a young woman who was yelling and screaming about being kicked in the head, and to the effect that she "was going to wait for the bitch." At approximately that time a Milwaukee Police car came north on first street and turned east on Plainfield and drove up the back driveway of Daddios. The officer went out and went towards the crowd. Soon, other squads were arriving. After the first officer who responded came running from the crowd with his pistol in firing position. He approached the male walking down the street and told him to stop and put his hands up. However, the male continued to walk. Finally the officer told the male to stop or threaten to shoot him. The male turned around and told the officer to go ahead and shoot. The officer moved forward, subdued the suspect, put him against that car and placed handcuffs upon him. He quickly searched the subject and began leading him away from the squad car. A female who was earlier yelling and screaming about being kicked came after the police officer. The officer told her to back off. She approached him and he pushed her away and again told her to back away. When she came at him a second time, the officer grabbed her and put her against the hood of a nearby car. Officers came to assist and she was cuffed and taken to a squad car.
- II. Mr. Plain also observed, at about the same time, an individual who had a cut forearm, come out of Daddios with a cloth wrapped around his forearm. Evidence presented to the committee disclosed that this individual put his arm through a window which caused laceration and significant bleeding. Officers searched the area for what was believed to be a gun, but no gun was recovered. Paramedics were called to the scene to assist the individual who had the cut forearm. The paramedics began spraying disinfectant over the blood on the sidewalk, and eventually, the fire department came to hose down the sidewalk to remove the bloodstains. Mr. Plain complains that he had human blood tainted on his driveway.
- JJ. The next morning, several individuals who were involved in the melee the night before came to the area also looking through bushes for some item which Mr. Plain did not know at the time.

- PP. On the weekends traffic is extremely heavy in front of the Breitzman home by virtue of patrons of "Daddios." A request was made of the security personnel hired by "Daddios" to control traffic and parking. The security person informed Janet Breitzman that they had no directives to keep cars off the street.
- QQ. On the evening of July 18, 2001 at approximately 2:30 a.m., the music was so loud that the Breitzmans could hear it in their home even with windows closed and the air conditioning on. That incident disturbed the quiet and peaceable enjoyment of the Breitzman home.

- AAA. On September 20, 2001, a group of loud women patrons in the parking lot next to "Daddios" came behind the house owned by the Breitzmans, and woke Pamela Breitzman at 2:00 a.m. She had to work the next day.
- BBB. On September 21, 2001 at 2:02 a.m., Janet Breitzman was awakened by loud noises which seemed to come from directly from beneath her window. She looked out and noticed three people talking in front of her neighbors house to the south. Ms. Breitzman asked them to go away as they had awakened her from a sound sleep. They responded "we are just talking about where to go next." Ms. Breitzman asked them to leave a second time and she was ignored. Ms. Breitzman called the police at approximately 2:15 a.m. but they left before the police arrived.
- CCC. When Janet Breitzman brought these concerns to the attention of Mr. Michael F. DeSautel, Mr. DeSautel told her that she and her husband should have done some better research before buying their home in the neighborhood.

Dispatcher 86 suggested she call her alderman and talking to someone at the police department the next day.
- NNN. The next morning, an empty six-pack of beer was found in the street. Ms. Chiaverotti verily believes the presence of the empty six-pack of beer was attributable to the patrons of "Daddios", and there is no other place in the vicinity attracting crowds of such persons.

- eeee. On July 14, 2001 at 1:58 a.m., Ms. Prothero observed a motorcycle racing up and down Plainfield Avenue. She believes that the individuals had been patrons of Daddios, and that there was no other operation open at that hour to account for such activity.

- ffff. On July 21, 2001, Ms. Prothero observed that someone had run over a fence and trampled flowers of a neighbor. She attributes this to the activity of the patrons departing Daddios.

- nnnn. Mr. Cruz has observed much litter generated by patrons of "Daddios."
- oooo. On Sunday, September 30, 2001 at 1:30 a.m., Mr. Cruz was awoken by people arguing outside on the sidewalk on Plainfield Street. Mr. Cruz saw six people standing on the in the sidewalk, and two females yelling. Mr. Cruz heard one say something to the effect "I don't care that he was stabbed he deserved it."
- pppp. Mr. Cruz went to call the police, but before he could call the police were already on the scene.

- qqqq. Mr. Cruz observed an officer come behind a man with his gun and pointed out to and to the back of the man's head. The officer told the man to "put up your hands or I will blow your fucking brains out." At that point the man said "I don't care blow my fucking brains out you bitch." The man continued to use foul language to the officer saying "You fucking bitch" several times and also saying "pig, whore," for some time. During the name-calling the officer was patting down the man and was emptying the man's pockets.
- rrrr. That man's girlfriend was also yelling at the officer. The officer then proceeded to take the man to a police squad and the girlfriend of the man was getting in the way of the officer. The officer then told the girlfriend to "back away." She did not and got into the officer's face. The officer then told the girlfriend she was under arrest. While holding the man who was handcuffed with one hand and took the girlfriend with the other hand, another officer came to help handcuff the girlfriend.
- ssss. The man told the officer "don't be so fucking rough with her she is pregnant." Mr. Cruz asked an officer if he needed to worry about anything that might be their yards or shrubs and he was told "no." This all lasted about one and one-half hours. Mr. Cruz counted at least six squad cars and ten officers with guns drawn. Mr. Cruz had a very hard time getting back to sleep that night. On Sunday afternoon Mr. Cruz saw the man who was arrested pick up his car. Before he got into his car he looked around for something.
- uuuu. It was explained to the Committee that originally the call to the police indicated a stabbing had taken place and that someone had a gun. In fact, the individual who was bleeding pushed his hand through a window, cutting his arm. A search was made, but not gun was recovered.

Their conversation, as well as the action of the operators of the Corvette disturbed the peace and quiet enjoyment of Mr. Vlies'.
- jjjj. On August 12, 2001 at 12:54 a.m., cars and motorcycles carrying patrons of "Daddios" were in the neighborhood. That disturbed Mr. Vlies.
- kkkk. On August 18, 2001 at 1:50 a.m., Mr. Vlies was walking his dog in the 4200 block of South 1st Street because the dog could not sleep because of the noise generated by "Daddios." At 1:50 a.m., a patron was so intoxicated that had could not walk was standing by a car directly in front of the home of Mr. Vlies unzipping his trousers and urinating for approximately three minutes. That individual was almost run over by one of his friends because they were both intoxicated.
- llll. On August 18, 2001 at 2:00 a.m., directly across the street from the home of Mr. Vlies, a group of four patrons of "Daddios" were "hanging out" by their van for 25 minutes. One of the individuals was so intoxicated he was standing by his van and urinating in the street and yard of the adjacent home. This individual asked one of the females, who was also present at the van, if one of they could come around and "hold it for him." That conduct disturbed Mr. Vlies.
- mmmm. Also on August 18, 2001 at approximately 2:00 a.m., three cars started to move into the intersection of 1st Street and Plainfield carrying patrons of "Daddios." The patrons were shouting at each other. The drivers were causing the engines of the vehicles to race and radios were loudly blasting music. That conduct disturbed Mr. Vlies. After approximately three minutes, Mr. DeSautel showed up thanked them for their business and asked them to leave.
- nnnn. On August 18, 2001 at approximately 2:00 a.m., beer bottles were strewn over the lawn of Mr. Vlies. Mr. Vlies picked up three of them at 2:20 a.m. and saved them.
