I hope you see this email before their renewal date which is coming up and address this with them on this date . He shouldn't have been able to tow in the city of Milwaukee these last few years but by jumping through hoops he was able to still , by using her name ( LAURA W. ) his child's mother . They also do drop fees as well and don't do the proper paperwork work !!!

..They also say they use special equipment and never take pictures in till

Jim,

The following Private Property Tow Companies are currently in collections. DPW would like to preemptively object to any renewals at the Licensing Committee based on money owed to the City. I realize some of these companies may not be currently operating, however, if they do reapply this will at least inform the committee they owe money. Let me know if you have any questions.

Just to make sure I am understanding, was your vehicle parked on the street on the side nearest the "Russel Metals" signage?

Alderman Spiker,

DPW did not ticket or tow these vehicles. It appears they were towed by a private towing contractor (Best Towing) at 7:35 P.M. Their phone number is 414-698-3870. I'm assuming they must have been parked on private property, as they would not be able to perform the tow if it was on a City street.

Please replace the last draft message with this completed one!

Peter:

First of all, I heard that your title was changed from Interim Head of the Parking Division to the Permanent Head. I am so happy to hear that! I look forward to working with you in your new role; this is so well deserved.

Secondly, could you please look into the extremely unfortunate situation that occurred on Saturday night, 9/6 sometime after 6 pm?

Patrons of the annual Fiesta Selena event at the nearby Farmhouse Studio at 4511 S 6th St exited a bit after 9 pm to find that their cars had been towed sometime between 6 pm and 9:30 pm from West Armour Ave in the area just west of S 6th St.

When I walked out of the festival with them at 9:30 pm, their cars were gone. It looks like DPW towed them, despite the fact that there were ZERO "no parking" signs on Armour. The only signs I saw were on the fence on north side of the road, on General Mills's private property.

Please examine any tickets received on Saturday, 9/6 in that 6-9 pm window on W Armour Ave west of S 6th St, determine the reason for their issuance, and see whether the lack of any City parking signs in the area on W Armour militates against prosecution of the ticket.

Thanks!

Had car towed by Best Towing LLC b/t Barnacle Buds and SkipperBud's off of KK. Was parked in SkipperBud's parking lot w/ handicapped tag on his car. Talked to SkipperBud's and they didn't call towing company on them. Best Towing says they can pick up car Saturday for $400, will only take cash. Charged $150 for tow, $150 for special equipment, and extra for some fees and $35 for City. Came out to about $395 total. Wondering if anything they can do, as City's site states cap is $150 for towing (his tow didn't seem to meet criteria for requiring special equipment). Best Towing also had a phone number on their fence, but it wasn't linked to their company in any way.

Hello I'd like to make the license committee aware of a business operating fraudulently under a different name. Abyss Towing Llc licenses was revoked by the city of milwaukee for illegally towing cars and not operating within the laws of the state.

Here's the link:

<https://www.jsonline.com/story/news/local/milwaukee/2018/12/18/milwaukees-abyss-towing-llc-loses-license-operate-city/2348766002/>.

Since their license has been revoked, they have reopened under a spouses name under the business name Best Towing llc, address 3231 W Vera Ave, Milwaukee, WI 53209. The registered owner of Abyss Towing llc is Lopez, Anthony L. The registered owner of Best Towing llc is his spouse Laura Wargolet. I believe that would be considered a conflict of interest for the city of milwaukee licensing committee as they are still operating and illegally towing vehicles. Please take some times and look into this matter. I've also included a screenshot of their business registration and a court case showing relationship between the two individuals.

Milwaukee's Abyss Towing loses license to operate in city after complaint about denied 'drop fee'

Mary Spicuzza Milwaukee Journal Sentinel

Published 10:35 a.m. CT Dec. 18, 2018 | Updated 4:19 p.m. CT Dec. 18, 2018

Milwaukee's Abyss Towing LLC has lost its license to operate in the city.

The company, which was accused of failing to offer a vehicle "drop fee" before towing a man's car, had its license revoked Tuesday by the Common Council.

The move came after a complaint from Matthew Clark, who said an Abyss tow truck driver failed to inform him of a city-mandated option to pay a $50 fee to avoid the tow.

The tow company argued Clark jumped in his vehicle and started it when it was already hooked up and that he was offered but refused to pay the "drop fee."

Dan Sanders, an attorney for Abyss, said Tuesday that the punishment was "unduly harsh," especially because the city hasn't gotten other complaints about the company.

"There's nothing that Abyss Towing has done that has affected the health, safety and well-being of the citizens of this city," Sanders said.

He urged aldermen to give Abyss a warning letter or suspension instead of "putting them out of business for good, forever."

Aldermen weren't persuaded and voted unanimously to revoke the company's license.

Clark has said he pleaded with the tow truck driver and tried to explain that he had parked in a space assigned to another tenant outside his mother's apartment building, but was in and out in 10 minutes.

He also said his mom had just been victimized in a scam, so he had to get her account information and report the fraud to her bank. He added that there were plenty of empty spots available.

His pleas got him nowhere, and the tow truck operator drove off with Clark's 2017 Chrysler Pacifica, plunging it into the depths of Abyss Towing LLC and the grips of a $355 retrieval fee, he said.

Clark accused the tow truck operator of failing to inform him of the "drop fee" option and the company of illegally applying more than $200 in additional charges. In Wisconsin, a maximum of $150 in additional fees may be applied only under special circumstances, such as vehicles that weigh more than 10,000 pounds or tow trips that exceed 20 miles.

RELATED: Driver stares down Milwaukee's Abyss Towing company in dispute over vehicle 'drop fee'

The company said Clark refused to show its driver his identification and vehicle registration as required for a drop fee release. It also argued that he refused to pay the drop fee.

Abyss, which boasts of "fast friendly service," deals only with private property impounds, according to its website.

State law allows for a maximum towing fee of $150, and $25 for each period of 24 consecutive hours that a vehicle is stored at an outdoor facility.

A $35 fee is allowed if the vehicle is stored at an indoor facility, and fees for trips exceeding 20 miles can only be assessed at $3 per mile.

Milwaukee also has a special ordinance allowing vehicle owners to pay the $50 drop fee directly to the tow truck operator to avoid the tow if the vehicle has not been fully hooked up to the truck.

Clark recorded a phone conversation with the company owner, Anthony Lopez, in which he was brusquely brushed off while pleading his case.

"To be honest there's really nothing we can do at this point," Lopez says.

"You shouldn't have been parked there illegally in the first place."

Lopez admonished Clark for entering the vehicle and starting the engine — which Clark claims he did before the driver appeared from the tow truck, adding that in hindsight he shouldn't have done that.

REDACTED
BY [Signature]

The man was not moved.

"You already admitted to me that you would have done everything totally different," Lopez said before telling Clark to "have a nice day" and hanging up.

On Tuesday, Sanders said Lopez has made it clear the company could make improvements to how it handles tows.

Clark filed complaints against Abyss with the state and the Better Business Bureau, which has given the business an F rating, the lowest on the BBB scale.

In September, Clark submitted the meticulously compiled complaint file with the city Licenses Committee, complete with timelines, appendixes and citations of the city ordinance and state law governing towing.

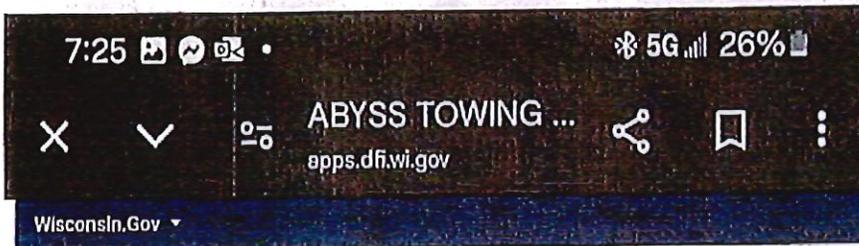

The complaint file also includes city data on Abyss Towing that shows no reported vehicle drop fees among 3,587 private tows from 2016 through September of this year.

The Licenses Committee agreed with Clark and recommended Milwaukee drop Abyss.

Before Tuesday's vote, Ald. Mark Borkowski questioned the "severity" of the punishment.

But Ald. Nik Kovac, chairman of the Licenses Committee, defended the move, saying Clark submitted extensive documentation and evidence.

Can you please confirm which Dollar General location you were parked in? Once we have that info, we will add this objection to their license (or if they are currently not licensed, we will add it to their business name and once they file, it will already be on the record to be paired with the application). The objection will automatically trigger a Licenses Committee hearing at which you will be welcome to testify to the Committee members regarding your experience. When it is scheduled, we will send you a notice with the hearing date and time to this email address.

Don't ever, ever hire these vultures. I bet you many reviews here are fake. I was charged a tow by this company for parking in a private lot 370$ because they justified using "special equipment" on my vehicle which was completely false. These people literally will patrol or sit with binoculars waiting at lots because they care more about making money off of you than your convenience. I was left stranded because my car was towed late at night and didn't even have the option to pick it up and was not notified by the company in any way. It clearly shows because I was charged 150$ extra fee for the use of special equipment which was completely unnecessary to move my vehicle, but necessary for the company to make a profit off my struggle. Do not ever hire or support this company, they left me completely stranded and ridiculously overcharged me for what should have been a normal towing fee. I was told my vehicle was an all wheel drive which justified the special equipment, and it was not an all wheel drive vehicle. Stay away at all costs.

These people are still towing cars illegally! This is Anthony Lopez from Abyss towing. City of Milwaukee revoked Tony's towing license. He put the new company in his girlfriend's name (Laura Wargolet's) & is towing vehicles illegally under her name. They also hide certain vehicles at his house in oak creek & her house in Caledonia.

Best Towing MKE

3 weeks ago

What a nightmare. I was towed out of an empty dollar general lot on a Sunday morning. I do not deny that I was parked illegally and do not blame best towing for towing my car, it is their job after all. It is the way that the situation was handled that is the issue. Very shady business practices. This is purely speculation, but I suspect that this company is somehow related to Abyss towing, which from what I see online, lost their license to tow in Milwaukee in 2018 by a unanimous 15-0 court ruling for refusing an on site drop fee to a victim of their predatory towing practices. The sign that said "best towing" clearly had a sticker that said "best" slapped over the word "Abyss". The number to call on the sign was unchanged. It is clear that the number that originally routed to Abyss towing is now that of Best towing LLC, which by the way, is indeed operating in Milwaukee... Very interesting. Anyways, when I went to pick up the car, the employee was extremely rude and in my opinion aggressive and dismissive during the entire interaction, telling me to take him to court because I am asking for basic pricing information about why the price is higher than expected. I asked for the employee's name, he said Dave. He laughed at me and said "I'm not giving you that" when I asked for a last name. Once I payed, he threatened to void the payment and not let me take the car back because I was "Harassing him". (I was kindly asking questions, he was straight up yelling at me, cutting me off, and telling me to "man up") On top of all the dumb fees they normally charge, he charged an additional fee of $150 for the use of "special equipment" while towing my car. The law states the company can charge up to $150 for cases in which spacial constraints require special equipment during the towing operation under the condition that the original state wide maximum $150 release fee would be "unreasonably low". What was the special equipment you ask that warrants and additional $150 charge? Towing skates. They literally cost $100 for a set and last a while until they wear out. They just use them to pull the car out of the spot slightly so they can load the car from the front. Not only did the use of the skates NOT make the normal $150 towing fee "unreasonably low", but they are making a profit by the use of this exception. As a cherry on top, he told me to "Not say a single word to him, and get the hell out" while leaving. I'd expect these kind of people to work for such a shady company but this entire event was truly something else. I understand that towing is a necessary service but that does not give them the power to operate in such a way that leaves such an ugly stain on the community. This place needs to be investigated and shut down, what a sad site.

Hello Faviola,

Lopez was cited for storing a nonconsensual /Private tow at 960 W. Armour Ave., Abyss Towing lot. The citation reads that way, "Towing Different Storage Location", which means the vehicle was not stored at a property listed on the RSTP license.

He is the owner of both locations, but the Armour property is not licensed for this type of business. Lopez has been advised multiple times, and I was mailed a warning letter from your office.

I hope this helps, if not feel free to reach out.

Thank you,

Officer Felix is off today and he issued this citation. From the narrative it appears only one location was used and it was at 960 W Armour Av.

I will have Officer Felix review this email tomorrow to make sure I did not miss anything.
