She added that she lives across the street and that she already had a bullet going thru her house last year and she does not feel safe every time that a fight breaks up like it just happened recently. He added that violence is a disease that needs to be treated as such and that he encourages businesses and neighbors to have an open dialog in real time to address these issues right away.

Atty. Obviagele said that the gun violence or the parking issues are not because of Casablanca. He added that many new apartment buildings do not have enough parking spaces and that we cannot let those who cause crime or disturbances to win by punishing business.
