- A choice of paid leave
- Prescription, dental coverage
- Annuity fund
- Deferred Compensation
- Optional retirement salary after 20 years
- Annual $12,000 Supplemental Full retirement)
- Annual banking Supplement Full service (If not retired)
- Excellent promotion
- Educational opportunity
- Additional benefits for military personnel

Salary Increases Over the First 5 1/2 Years

Annual base salaries for officers hired during

January 2006 or after:

- Police Academy (first six months): $25,100 (Annualized)
- Upon completion of six months: $32,700
- Upon completion of 1 ½ years: $34,000
- Upon completion of 2 ½ years: $38,000
- Upon completion of 3 ½ years: $41,500
- Upon completion of 4 ½ years: $44,100
- Upon completion of 5 ½ years: $59,588

* These salaries do not include overtime earnings, night-shift differential, holiday pay and uniform allowance. There is also longevity pay every five years up to twenty years of service.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

The NYPD administers promotional exams for each rank above police officer every year. IT'S A GREAT PLACE TO ADVANCE....

- 1 in 6 uniformed members of the NYPD are Detectives. A Detective's (3rd Grade) average salary is $88,000* (Promotion to Detective is not based on a promotional exam, it's based on seniority).
- 1 in 7 uniformed members of the NYPD are Sergeants. A Sergeant's average salary is $75,000*.
- 1 in 20 uniformed members of the NYPD are Lieutenants. A Lieutenant's average salary is $95,000*.

*These salaries include base salary, average overtime and night shift differential, holiday pay and sick leave allowance. The above ranks do enjoy the same additional benefits described above.

RETIREMENT BENEFITS

After 20 years of service, a retired Police Officer will receive:

- Estimated earnings of $46,000 per year, comprised of 50 % of salary, longevity, night shift differential, overtime and an annual $12,000 payment from a Variable Supplement Fund.
 - A retired Police Officer could receive approximately $1.75 million when retired at age 62 with an expectancy of 80 years. This figure is based on the age of appointment of 22 and the age of retirement of 42.
 - The dollar amount of $1.75 million is estimated on 2003 salaries and is not adjusted for future raises.
 - This dollar amount will be higher for uniformed members that retire above the rank of Police Officer.
- Full health benefits
- Annuity Fund and Deferred Compensation Plan.
 - The amount of the funds depends on the market value of the portfolio that the officer invests in while active.
