CAREER OBJECTIVE

Business Development Associate. I believe my skills match up to Business Development, and believe I would excel as a Covanta employee in that realm. We are tasked with a tremendous amount of growth over the next five years, and I believe I could be an asset in achieving that goal. I adapt well to new environments, as well as I enjoy learning new things and meeting new people. I think 'big' and 'out-of-the-box', with an emphasis on 'down-the-road' analysis. I am a problem solver with an ever-driving motivation for root cause analysis. Preventing future problems, or avoiding them all together, is a primary driver for me. Eight years of Army training has developed a strong sense of enhancing, and complimenting, others roles, while performing with a high rate of devotion in my role. As a team, we can achieve this goal. I feel this team needs to be well armed with diverse skills and brain power to fully take on this task. I believe I can support this growing team, and compliment their current skills and function.
