Historic Designation and city renovation programs save historic home in the Merrill Park Neighborhood that is now being listed for sale at $439,900

Statement of Alderman Robert J. Bauman March 28, 2024

The single family home at 3402 W. St. Paul Ave. is an architect designed cream city brick structure built in 1889. The current owner of this property has listed the home for sale at $439,900.

The evolution of this property over the last 15 years is an excellent case study in the successful operation of the city's Historic Preservation Ordinance and the city's housing renovation programs.

In 2008 this property was owned by an absentee investor owner and divided into several units. It had been neglected for many years. Neighbors were complaining to my office about the condition of the property and nuisance activity. The ornate front porch was falling apart and there were several roof leaks causing interior damage. DNS issued a raze order in July 2008.

Demolition was the next step but that would just create a vacant lot producing no property taxes. Instead, the property was nominated for historic designation under the Historic Preservation Ordinance. The Common Council approved historic designation on July 28, 2009.

Subsequently, the absentee investor owner defaulted on their property taxes and the city acquired the property through tax foreclosure in November 2010.

Instead of demolition, the city allocated funds for a complete exterior renovation including a new roof, and extensive masonry repairs to the front porch under the city's Housing Infrastructure Preservation Fund. The Housing Infrastructure Preservation Fund was a program I created to provide funding to perform big ticket exterior repairs on significant 1 & 2 family homes that had fallen into disrepair due to neglect. The idea was for the city to complete these exterior repairs to render the property more attractive to owner-occupant buyers who would then undertake the interior renovations. The city invested $117,200 in these exterior repairs.

Once the work was complete, the city marketed the property for owner-occupancy. The current owner purchased the property in July 2013 for $50,000. The city's net investment in preserving this property was about $67,000 and the property was returned to the tax rolls.

The new owner undertook a complete interior renovation of the home and in the winter of 2024 decided to list the property for sale at $439,900.

In 2008, 3402 W. St. Paul was a neglected and deteriorating home that was a blight in the neighborhood and on a path toward demolition. In 2024, it is a beautifully restored historic home that will be on the tax rolls with an assessed value in excess of $400,000 thanks to the intervention of the Historic Preservation process and the City's Housing Infrastructure Preservation Fund coupled with the work of a dedicated and skilled homeowner. A true success story: housing stock preserved, tax base expanded.

MEMORANDUM

Subject: Summary of the City's Housing Infrastructure Preservation Fund

The Housing Infrastructure Preservation Fund (HIPF) is a Department of City Development-administered capital improvement account that finances exterior rehabilitation of City-owned in rem properties that are often uninhabitable, plagued with code violations, and headed towards demolition, but deemed architecturally significant and worthy of preservation. The City uses HIPF to rehabilitate properties before selling them to private owners or, in a few instances, uses HIPF for rehabilitation loans after sale of properties to private owners.

The City has sold 56 properties rehabilitated with HIPF since 2011, using a total of $4,248,427 for rehabilitations. The total of sale proceeds is $697,356, resulting in a net subsidy of $3,551,071. After restoration and sale to private owners, mostly owner occupants, these properties become assets to surrounding neighborhoods and are returned to the City's tax rolls. The total assessed value (2024) of the properties is now $8,687,300, producing over $80,000 in annual property tax revenues for the City.

It should be noted that but for the HIPF, most, if not all, of these properties would have been demolished resulting in minimal or zero 2024 assessed value. The below table summarizes the 56 HIPF properties, further details on which appear in the attachment.

Total	$4,248,427	$697,356	$3,551,071	$8,687,300
Average	$75,865	$12,453	$63,412	$155,130

Subject: Housing Units Constructed Vs. Demolished Since January 1, 2017

You requested data on October 29 about the number of one- to four-family housing units that were constructed versus demolished in the city of Milwaukee from January 1, 2017, to October 25, 2024. Department of Neighborhood Services (DNS) data show that 258 more units were demolished than constructed, as per the below table:

Property type ⁱ	Units constructed ⁱⁱ	Units demolished ⁱⁱⁱ	Difference (constructed - demolished)
One-family	252	195	+57
Two-family	182	456	-274
Three-family	12	33	-21
Four-family	0	20	-20
Total	446	704	-258

LRB 180195-9

DNS provided property-level data that did not specify the number of units per property in all instances. The LRB assumes that the number of families per property type (i.e., one-, two-, three-, or four-family property) corresponds with the number of units per property type (i.e., one, two, three, or four units).

DNS provided data on permits for new residential (i.e., one- or two-family) and new commercial (i.e., three- or four-family) construction that the City has issued to public versus private entities. The LRB aggregates permits for public and private entities. All one- to four-family construction permits that DNS issued from January 1, 2017, to October 25, 2024, have a status of "issued", "complete", or "closed".

DNS provided data on properties that the City has razed by ownership type (i.e., City- or privately-owned) and by property type. The LRB aggregates City- and privately-owned properties. The LRB excludes from three- and four-family property types those properties that DNS data identified as "apartment bldg.", "apts", or "multi-family". The City funds demolition of City-owned properties through a combination of private contractors and Department of Public Works staff. For private property demolitions, DNS contracts the work and bills owners accordingly.
