Work Experience

Principal, Quorum Architects Inc. October 1993-present

Founding Principal of an integrated, twelve-person architecture, interior design, and landscape architecture firm specializing in renovation to the existing built environment.

Manager of Interior Architecture, Renner Architects September 1990-1993

Director of space planning and interior architectural studio of a 15-20 person architectural firm.

Project Assistant, John Milner Associates August 1987-1988

Draftsperson and project designer in the architectural studio of a 100 person preservation, conservation and archeological practice.

General Experience

Allyson has a diverse academic and professional background. Her studies in Architectural History and professional experience in historic preservation make her well-suited for coordinating the architectural and engineering services on preservation and adaptive re-use projects.

Historic Structures have been a consistent focus for Allyson. During her graduate studies at UWM, Allyson was instrumental in creating the Institute for Historic Preservation Studies in the School of Architecture, and was awarded an honorary certificate of the Program. Allyson is also involved in several Preservation organizations, including the National Trust for Historic Preservation, the Friends of the Milwaukee County Historical Society and the Historic Concordia Neighborhood Association.

Allyson was awarded the Graduate of the Last Decade (GOLD) Award from UWM and was awarded the Milwaukee Business Journal's 40 under 40 in 2000.

Community Involvement

American Institute of Architects, Wisconsin

Current Chair, AIA WI Public Awareness Committee
Co-Chair, Fall Workshop, "Ethics and Professional Practice"
President 2001
Vice President 2000
Secretary/Treasurer 1999

Wisconsin Architects Foundation Board 2003-Present

The Wisconsin Architects Foundation strives to build a better Wisconsin through architectural education and increased public awareness of our built environment. Annually, the WAF awards scholarships to architectural students and programs to increase public awareness of architecture. Allyson is in her first year on the board of directors.

Elm Foundation (MPS) Board Co-Chair

Elm Creative Arts School is a Milwaukee Public School that integrates the arts, which includes: visual art, music, drama, dance, and creative writing into a curriculum which supports the Milwaukee Public Schools K-12 Teaching and Learning goals. Elm's mission is to develop an individual who can think critically and creatively, understand diversity, appreciate the arts, and contribute to society. Allyson has been very active in management and fundraising to provide supplemental arts programming at the school, and navigate through the budget over the last several years.

Next Act Theatre Board, 1999-Present

Currently President of the Board of Trustees

Next Act Theatre engages the hearts and minds of the audience with compelling, professional theater in an intimate environment which encourages artists and audience to explore contemporary issues and human truths. In her position as vice president and member of the executive committee, Allyson has been a leader in unifying the board of directors and engaging them in fundraising, public awareness, and friend-development.

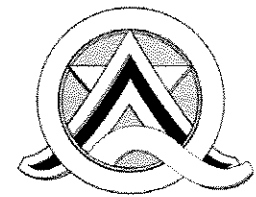

University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, Alumni Association Board 2003-present

Current Board Secretary

The UWM Alumni Association serves to elevate the identity of UWM through increased alumni involvement in the school and in the community. UWM is well known for the Milwaukee Idea, a UWM program crossing all schools designed to integrate UWM into the city through community service and outreach by students and alumni. Allyson has been involved with the School of Architecture and Urban Planning Alumni since 1990, and Allyson is in her second term on the UWMAA board of directors.

Uptown Crossing Business Improvement District Board, 1998-present

The City of Milwaukee has encouraged the formation of self-taxing Business Improvement Districts (BID) to encourage business development in traditional business districts. The Uptown Crossing BID was formed to provide streetscape and public improvements to attract new businesses along North Avenue and Lisbon Avenue. Allyson has been involved with the BID, organizing the public improvements with DPW. More recently, Allyson was very involved in the Milwaukee Main Street Program.
