LEADERSHIP SUMMIT PRE-CON: Building Your Personal Brand - Establish Your Professional Identity to Drive Change

Date: Oct-20-2019, 2:00:00 PM - 2:45:00 PM

Speaker: Melissa Henley

Full Description: For many records managers, the hardest part of the job isn't coming up with initiatives that will benefit their organizations. The much harder part can be convincing other people that your ideas are worth supporting. One way to do that is by building influence. But how can you build the influence you need when you, your department, and your projects are often pigeonholed or dismissed? In today's environment, perception is reality. By curating your personal brand, you can become your own best advocate so you're better able to gain buy-in and position yourself and your team for success.

Getting To Know You: Creating a Project Team with Purpose

Date: Oct-21-2019, 9:40:00 AM - 10:25:00 AM

Speaker: Angela Watt

Full Description: Based on the Information Governance Reference Model, attendees of this session will learn how to create a collaborative team of experts that will create sustainable digital transformation projects that live long term. We will discuss who you should include in your project team, why they need to be there, and when to include them. Whether you are a supplier implementing a software solution in an organization, or a Project Lead in-house, identifying the team and how to work with them will guarantee a successful project completion. To finish this creation, attendees will learn how to apply these to define project objectives that are measurable while also including hidden requirements and corporate culture.

Subscription Service Value for Enterprise Rules Management

Date: Oct-21-2019, 9:40:00 AM - 10:25:00 AM

Speaker: Sarah Emes

Full Description: Subscribing to a rules service to manage your enterprise retention and privacy policy is a step change from budgeting projects to manually update them periodically. Are you ready to orchestrate the move from a project process to an operational mode of working to support the speed of change and diversity of regulations that impact data retention? This session will help you prepare your proposal and change management plan to educate all the stakeholders in your organization and come to a good decision together.

Managing the Risks of an IG Initiative: How to Develop an IG Policy Framework

Date: Oct-21-2019, 9:40:00 AM - 10:25:00 AM

Speaker: Amitabh Srivastav

Full Description: IG programs face many risks, especially the risk of choosing the right policies to support the program. Not addressing the matter of program policies can pose a significant risk in delivering a successful IG program. Can an IG policy framework help manage the program's risks by encouraging stakeholder buy-in, promoting IG awareness, and improving accountability? If so, then what are the appropriate IG policies? To answer this and related questions, this session will present a framework to developing IG policies.

Taking Flight: A Case Study Leveraging ARMA's IG Maturity Model

Date: Oct-21-2019, 9:40:00 AM - 10:25:00 AM

Speaker: Carissa Bourdon

Full Description: Does your RIM or IG staff seem like it's always reacting to the latest crisis? Do you have a lot of projects but few successes? In this case study, learn how one agency used ARMA's IG Maturity Model to assess its current risks, define agency-wide goals, and build a roadmap to transformational IG practices. Using gauges for an aviation-themed presentation, learn how we were able to "move the needle" to more stable RIM and IG programs and practices agency-wide.

Date: Oct-22-2019, 8:30:00 AM - 9:25:00 AM

Speaker: David Cohen

Full Description: E-discovery considerations are a primary driver of record retention policies, beyond business needs and specific retention regulations. In this session, we will explore how litigation case opinions and rules (including recent amendments to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Federal Rules of Evidence) can impact the types of retention decisions that are made on a daily basis by records managers and compliance professionals.

Oh! But What About the Prerequisites?

Date: Oct-22-2019, 8:30:00 AM - 9:25:00 AM

Speaker: Kedar Thakkar

Full Description: As we move towards digital transformation, AI, blockchain, content services, cloud, etc., it is more and more important for records and information managers to keep up with the technological advancements that impact RIM. It is essential that records and information managers equip themselves with more than just a basic understanding of how records are being transformed and what is expected of them as these new technological advancements enter their organizations. This session leads to discussions on modern records management aspects and impacts of these technologies. It creates awareness for traditional RIMs to not get left behind.

Rapid Fire 2 - 7 Steps to Building a Records Inventory Framework

Date: Oct-22-2019, 8:50:00 AM - 9:05:00 AM

Speaker: Donda Young

Full Description: The records inventory process is not a method to audit a department; it is a mode to better understand the business processes that create relevant business records, and thus it should be examined and evaluated by RIM to ensure proper ongoing value and maintenance to the organization. But getting started can be a challenge. In this session, we will go over 7 steps to effectively build a repeatable records inventory framework to take back to your organization.

Tidying Up Shared Drives: How United Health Group (UHG) Addressed the Challenge

Date: Oct-23-2019, 12:50:00 PM - 1:35:00 PM

Speaker: Susan Cisco | Brian Tuemmler

Full Description: IG professionals understand the value of organizing information in shared drives and classifying it for retention, privacy, etc. The difficulty in "tidying up" usually is commensurate with the volume and diversity of information. Imagine a company with multiple subsidiaries and multiple petabytes of content. UnitedHealth Group faced this problem and implemented various projects to clean up and apply governance to shared-drive information. Successes started at the policy level, involved multiple stakeholders, and leveraged automated tools to minimize human intervention.

Records & Information Management and Privacy: Conflict or Convergence?

Date: Oct-23-2019, 12:50:00 PM - 1:35:00 PM

Speaker: Jacki Cheslow

Full Description: On the surface, RIM and privacy appear to diverge, but in reality they are both concerned with the proper and compliant management of information and records. Sometimes appearances can be deceptive. Are the goals and principles of RIM and privacy really that different? Can they successfully co-exist? This session will evaluate if there is conflict or convergence?

Corralling the Chaos - IG/ECM for the Law Office/Law Department Environment

Date: Oct-23-2019, 12:50:00 PM - 1:35:00 PM

Speaker: Ann Gorr

Full Description: A challenge facing many firms and law departments is how to go about taming the chaos that has taken over their data management needs. Limited tech resources, outdated applications/environment, non-integrated processes compounded by requirements set by clients, governing entities, professional standards, and security concerns are forcing law firms and legal departments to forge ahead in a more unified fashion. What's the best path to ensure continuity, relevance, and change? This session will provide insights on how to learn what tools you need to have in your technology toolkit.

If You Build It, Will They Come? (Global Pharmaceutical Company Case Study)

Date: Oct-23-2019, 12:50:00 PM - 1:35:00 PM

Speaker: Natalie Noonan | Rebecca Allen

Full Description: When your program publishes new IG policies, processes, and tools, do your colleagues immediately understand their value and rush to the field? Perhaps not. Many are content to stick with the "we've always done it this way" mantra until the "what's in it for me" is evident and entices lasting change in behavior. This session focuses on essential steps you can take to lead successful IG change initiatives. A global pharmaceutical company will share its innovative approach to socializing its RIM program, and tips and tricks that make its email management policy stick.

Gamification: Electrify Training and Increase Adoption

Date: Oct-23-2019, 12:50:00 PM - 1:35:00 PM

Speaker: Laurie Carpenter

Full Description: Gamification - it's not just for gaming anymore. Organizations are finding ways to incorporate gamification techniques into training to unleash learning potential, build relationships within the organization, improve customer service, and build brand loyalty. These techniques have the potential to revolutionize your IG program. From increasing user adoption to creating loyal followers of your IG program, the possibilities are immense. This interactive session will equip you with new ideas and vision for your program.

The Right to be Forgotten Versus The Need to Backup

Date: Oct-23-2019, 1:50:00 PM - 2:35:00 PM

Speaker: William Tolson | James McCarthy

Full Description: A great deal has been written about the GDPR and CCPA privacy laws, both of which includes a "right to be forgotten." The right to be forgotten is an idea that was put into practice in the EU in May 2018 with the GDPR. Simply put, it means that companies that collect and hold personal information (PI) on EU citizens for the GDPR and California citizens for the CCPA must find, report on, and delete (when asked) all PI that can be used to identify the citizen. But does the right to be forgotten include enterprise backups erasure?

Developing Measurable Metrics for Information Governance

Date: Oct-23-2019, 1:50:00 PM - 2:35:00 PM

Speaker: John Jablonski | Michelle Kirk

Improving Employee Buy-In to IM Policies

Date: Oct-23-2019, 1:50:00 PM - 2:35:00 PM

Speaker: Lewis Eisen

Full Description: In many offices, IM policies are long and confusing, and no one reads them. Worse, they often sound like angry parents scolding naughty children. Adults bristle at disrespectfully worded statements, making compliance a battle. The reality is that the policy writers wanted to sound strict rather than disrespectful, and they paid more attention to the content than to the tone of voice. In this session, you will learn how to improve the conversation dynamic.

Panel - Internet of Things: Considerations and Case Law for IG & eDiscovery

Date: Oct-23-2019, 1:50:00 PM - 2:35:00 PM

Speaker: Matt Mahon | Corinne Cartwright | Nicole Leet

Full Description: A panel of attorneys and technology specialists will discuss the considerations for the changing landscape of communication and connected devices, such as texting and tools like Alexa and Slack. How does the use of these tools impact data retention, legal holds, and matters of evidence in litigation?

Retention Schedule/Metadata Innovation at a National Union

Date: Oct-23-2019, 1:50:00 PM - 2:35:00 PM

Speaker: Sarah Bélanger | Bruce Miller

Full Description: Canada's sixth-largest trade union utilized a radical new method to rapidly develop a retention schedule with document metadata for a document/records management system. This approach ensures a technology-ready retention schedule with successful downstream adoption of the document/records system. Building metadata with the retention schedule facilitates a document/records solution that meets business needs while delivering full recordkeeping compliance. See how PSAC eliminated guesswork and reduced risk of adoption failure with this methodology, reusable tools, and templates.

Blockchain Technology, Government, and Business Applications: Using Smart Contracts

Date: Oct-23-2019, 1:50:00 PM - 2:35:00 PM

Speaker: Danielle Batista | Darra Hofman

Full Description: Blockchain technology in its tenth year of existence having contributed to the transformation of business and government sectors. One of the prominent new types of record that has come along with blockchain technology is the smart contract. In this session you will learn about blockchain, smart contracts, their most common applications in government and business procedures and how they should be analyzed as archival records and/or recordkeeping systems.

From Strategy to Execution - Getting Defensible Disposition Done

Date: Oct-23-2019, 2:50:00 PM - 3:35:00 PM

Speaker: Natalie Noonan | Rebecca Allen

Full Description: Many IG programs have a long history of developing standards with an end goal of defensible disposition, but many have struggled to execute against them. Instead of embedding disposition into their business processes, they've kicked the can down the road. With increasing privacy and security risks and regulations, it is not acceptable to "save everything forever." This session will share a practical approach to disposition and legacy data remediation - and a case study of a global pharmaceutical company's journey to "push the delete button."

Data Protection and Privacy Quiz Show - Reality vs. Myths & Compliance vs. Fear

Date: Oct-23-2019, 2:50:00 PM - 3:35:00 PM

Speaker: Tom Corey

Full Description: Will Europe routinely fine a company 20 million Euros for a GDPR violation? Did California adopt GDPR? Are data protection and data privacy just European concepts? In this session, we will explore these and other common questions arising from the new data protection laws to determine fact vs. myths. The discussion will be in presented in the form of a quiz show, so be ready to participate. The focus will be on compliance and less about fear. By the end of the presentation, you'll be able to identify actual organizational risk.

Digitally Transform Contract Management to Improve Data Governance

Date: Oct-23-2019, 2:50:00 PM - 3:35:00 PM

Speaker: Neal Singh

Full Description: Contracts govern every dollar coming in and going out of a company. Until recently, the information in these contracts was usually locked up in PDF documents stored in SharePoint sites. Forward-looking companies are turning these static documents into strategic digital assets, thereby improving data governance, reducing risk, and creating opportunities to accelerate business and optimize commercial relationships. Learn from our customer how you can lead a successful digital transformation of contract management.
