PUBLIC ARTIST IN RESIDENCY (PAIR) PROGRAM

PAIR is a municipal residency program that embeds artists in City of Milwaukee departments to strategize, propose and implement creative solutions to complex civic challenges. PAIR aims to invest in the city's cultural producers by leveraging the knowledge, practices and creative tool kits of local artists to build a better community for Milwaukee residents.

In this first year, Sarah Davitt has been selected as the Artist and is collaborating with the Department of Public Works (DPW) to raise awareness around the dangers of reckless driving. Sarah will be working with DPW and community members to understand underlying causes of reckless driving and community impacts and will help in creating a culture where lives are valued and safe driving is seen as the responsibility of everyone.

This iterative program will evolve each year, incorporating new insights, learnings, and approaches. The 12-month PAIR program encompasses four phases: research, prototyping, project implementation, and evaluation.

Budget - The total budget for the Artist Services for the Public Artist in Residency pilot is $43,000 in Artist fees, including reimbursable expenses, and $25,000 for all costs associated with the development and implementation of the project.
