Employee Parking Monitoring Log

- As part of our parking plan previously shared with the City, CloudKitchens employees regularly monitor and document parking incidents in the neighborhood.
- If a courier coming into our business is double parked, staff will ask them to move their vehicle before being served.
- If a double-parker is affiliated with a neighboring business, we will document but not intervene.
- If there is a long-term parking issue, our staff will make a report to parking enforcement.

7:51: Just spoke with Ricky, the valet supervisor. We agreed we're both trying different ways to make the parking situation work for all parties. E.g. valets not using cones. I told him about the incident with one of the valets placing the cone in our spot.

More significantly, he mentioned one of the reasons there is so much heat on parking right now is he believes the mayor's daughter or niece got stuck in her parking spot across the street due to dp vehicles blocking her exit.

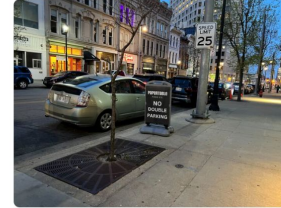

He also mentioned that the fine for blocking traffic is now $90.00 and he noted that a couple of cars along the street were issued this fine, though it was no fault of their own that they couldn't move in the traffic... I did not quite understand the scenario he laid out that resulted in fines.

I reiterated that I'm merely documenting so we can devise an equitable solution that meets all our parking needs.

I asked Ricky, the valet supervisor, when the streets closed down on the weekends. He indicated that the time changed from 10:00 pm to 10:30, also that this is a police directive due to traffic from the new club across the street at 720. The Wisconsin Avenue end is manned by a valet. (edited)

Paula Jones 5:47 PM

Appx. 5:15: customer struggled to park in our LZ due to placement of valet cone in our spot. The valets clearly saw what happened; I was watching them watch the struggling vehicle from the window. The driver bumped into the cone more than once until finally resorting to double parking adjacent to our space. When I approached the valets about the incident they denied seeing the incident. After notifying them that their cone was in our LZ, one of the valets kicked it up an inch, not really making much of a difference to its placement. I subsequently moved it squarely into their LZ. It was a positive encounter, and I asked if we could contact them directly in the future. They gave me a card from District One: P.O. Williams and P.O. Munkvold, see card attached:

7:57: Filed 4th Citizen Complaint on vehicle illegally parked in our LZ. Complaint # C2616040

Paula Jones 9:20 PM

9:14: parking checker drove by and monitored vehicle in our LZ - it looks like there might be a ticket on the driver's side window- not sure. This isn't where they generally place the parking ticket. In any case, this vehicle should have been towed. It is another example of egregious parking abuses along the street that go unaddressed. (edited)
