1. Description of Grant Project/Program (Include Target Locations and Populations):
Safe Harbor is a joint project of Milwaukee Public Library, the Port of Milwaukee, and the Wisconsin Marine Historical Society to digitize and make available on the Web historic photographs of the Port of Milwaukee. The Port of Milwaukee has an extensive collection of historic photos of the Port and the vessels and people connected with it that illustrate the role the Port played in the economic and social history of Milwaukee. This project would digitize approximately 1,000 photos and make them available on the Internet with descriptions of the images and their significance.
2. Relationship to City-Wide Strategic Goals and Departmental Objectives:
The photographs document an important part of Milwaukee's history. This relates to the Library's goals to preserve, enhance and transform the Milwaukee Public Library collections and services to effectively respond to changing communities and to emerging technologies. It also applies to the goal to coordinate a grant-writing program to identify, apply for, implement and track grant money to enhance collections, equipment and services. It meets the City's goal to enhance the "value" of Milwaukee including the "connectedness" of its people and the City self vision that encompasses "a flourishing culture recognized for its arts and museums."
