Sorry, I meant to say that she did not want me to remove the outer windows that were in question I think she wanted to wait and see what would happen over the winter

Yes I have some photos of the completed work should not want me to remove the outer windows that home Depot put in. They really look okay and juxtaposition with the windows I restored it doesn't look like anything detractive, in my opinion. So what I'm saying is that the restoration of the inner windows completely changed the visual look and thus the nature of the problem? What do you think. I think you're the guy that's going to decide and I will go with that. We may have to convince her.

Hi Tim. This is rather confusing to me. How am I supposed to respond to this appropriately?
