Case study: City of Milwaukee

Closing savings gaps – Over the last five years, Voya client City of Milwaukee has had success in closing many financial gaps of Black and Latino employees and encouraging greater participation and savings for all employees by implementing many of the initiatives outlined in this paper.

Plan design action: Deployed automatic re-enrollment and automatic contribution increases for employees saving below 3%.

Results:

Increased participation rates

Increased average savings rates

■ Black ■ Latino

The City of Milwaukee plan participant data was collected by Voya Financial in 2021, reflecting historical data from Sept. 30, 2016 to Sept. 30, 2021.

Aside from the obvious advantage of increased participation, auto enrollment also frees up time and energy for human resources teams to focus on implementing other initiatives to drive engagement and deliver customized support to diverse populations.

"Incorporating auto enrollment and re-enrollment features into our plan design has resulted in our ability to address and close prior disparity gaps. This best practice serves as a powerful tool — it is the tide that raises all boats and has yielded proven outcomes in terms of participation and saving rates amongst all of our participants."
