Jessica,

Are you the one who would add this to the CC file?

Thanks,
Tom

Subject: Uber Cars

Alex Friedman who owns a taxi was just here. He said that licensed limos are being paid $20/$25 an hour to sit outside the airport (and other places) and wait for people. People can find a car and pay online and then go straight to the Uber car. This is taking a lot of business away from the licensed taxis.

I think of concern to us right now is that Uber is giving out incorrect information and saying the information came from our office.

Alex showed me a text he received from Nick w/ Uber stating that he (Nick) just talked to our office and was told someone can also get a limo license for vehicle with a taxi license, and it should be easier because the vehicle is already inspected.

David received a call Monday and Linda received a call Tuesday and they both told the callers that a vehicle cannot be licensed as a taxi and limo at the same time.
