

Eugene P. Manzanet
PNC Bank Vice President
Community Development

Eugene Manzanet, after serving eight years in the United States Marine Corps Reserve has dedicated his time and energy to serving the Milwaukee area as resource of information for financial education, community and economic development. As a current resident and home owner of the near south side of Milwaukee he originally was born in New York City and raised in the heart of the "South Bronx". He has been in the banking industry for nineteen years and currently serves as Vice President Community Development for PNC Bank where he provides direct support to community social services organizations with financial resources to increase homeownership, small businesses and economic development for catalytic projects of south eastern Wisconsin area.

Eugene attended "The College of the Holy Cross" where he developed his passion for social responsibility as a student majoring in history. He has continued his education locally at Cardinal Stritch University College of Business Management and Administration completing a Bachelors Science Business Administration in 2014 on his path to fulfilling his ultimate goal of achieving a Master's Degree in Business Administration 2015. He has served on numerous non-profit boards and advisory councils throughout the Milwaukee area over the past ten years. He is extremely passionate about his work within disenfranchised communities and is committed to making it his life's work to help rebuild them. Although committed to community work, his true passion is raising his three boys Gabriel, Emanuel, Mateo and now daughter Malia with his wife Gladys.
