Dear Carlen,

I had posted an alert on a "Sherman Park Recollections," Facebook page. Here is one response:

I have to respond to this. I worked for MPS Repair Div. carpenter and mill shop. Those 100 yr wood windows you talk about don't exist, we made new wood windows yearly for all those schools. Cost wise, you could have a team working on repairing wood windows every day and not keep up.

Just wanted you to be forewarned that this argument may surface.

Best,
