Ald. Bohl,

Per your request on whether or not the proposed ban on coal tar sealants and the possible inclusion of a ban on any pavement sealant that contain 1% PAH by weight or greater, we have reviewed our various material specifications that we utilize on our streets or building parking lots and do not anticipate any hardship if the greater restriction were proposed. We do not spec any of the products from the list of Other High PAH sealants that you had provided me. All of our specifications state "asphalt emulsion".
