Alderman Murphy,

As a member of Historic Milwaukee Inc. and a proud resident of the City of Milwaukee, I've been reading with concern the recent proposal to demolish two mid-19th century buildings and underground caverns formerly owned by the Gettelman Brewery and located off State Street just west of the Miller Brewing Company campus. While I do not claim to know about the condition of these buildings, I sincerely hope that if they are in good condition, that the City find some way to work with Miller to both preserve and activate them as well as identify alternate nearby locations for MillerCoors to park their tractor trailers. If you are in a position to discuss possible options to demolition with representatives from MillerCoors which would balance the needs of the brewery with those of historic preservation, I would certainly appreciate it.

Thanks in advance for any attention to this issue you can provide,

Scott
