Subject: Save The Historic Buildings

As the Joni Mitchell song asks, "Don't it always seem to go, that you don't know what you got 'til it's gone?"

Yesterday's outpouring of sympathy for Trinity Lutheran Church in downtown Milwaukee, after the devastating fire, is a perfect example of how we treasure our historic buildings.

The Layton Boulevard residents have joined forces in the past to save historic homes and buildings in our neighborhood. The Eschweiler designed home on the southeast corner of Layton Boulevard and Scott Street is an example of a treasured and important structure that was threatened to be replaced by a parking lot. Our voices were loud and clear that we do not want parking lots on this historic boulevard. And, the home was saved and lovingly restored by the grandsons of the original owner.

The same goes for the commercial and residential building on the southwest corner of the boulevard and Greenfield Avenue.

Please stand with us in opposition to the plan to tear it down.
