Rental Housing

RAD Conversion Training Accelerates: Fearful that the Trump administration could pull the plug on the Rental Assistance Demonstration program or scale it back, HUD is stepping up application of the program with an intensification of the search for qualified buyers of public housing units for rehabilitation and conversion to public-private housing. HUD's Office of Multifamily Housing's Recapitalization Division schedules a two-day training conference, May 17-18, dubbed Keys to a Successful RAD Conversion. HUD executives will train public housing authority executives who are new to the RAD program. Discussion topics include strategic portfolio planning, resident rights, creative RAD tools, and updates on policy and practice. Info: Additional information and registration at <https://tinyurl.com/yacrevfm>
