> I think the priorities with plowing in downtown Milwaukee need to be reassessed and take into consideration that there are people that live downtown that need to drive to work. When I finally got on the road this morning, the only street that was totally cleared was Jackson and thats because it is a major route for The Hop, which doesn't do a lot of good for other residents that can't even get to Jackson. Frustrated resident for over 20 years. Hope this improves.
