George is Chief Executive Officer for Kahler Slater. With offices in Milwaukee, Madison and Singapore, Kahler Slater provides design services for Health Care, Hospitality, Higher Education, Multi-Family, Corporate, and Environmental Branding clients. George is known for his strong financial, organization and communication skills along with his skills in leading highly complex projects.

For the past 30 years at Kahler Slater, George has completed local projects including the Milwaukee Water Council, Eaton Corporation, Irgens Development Partners, the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra, the Milwaukee Jewish Federation, the Jewish Community Center, Stark Investments, Miller Brewing Company, Jackson Street Partners, University of Wisconsin System, Marcus Hotels and Resorts, U.S. Bank, Milwaukee Area Technical College, Northwestern Mutual, and Fisery.

Since Kahler Slater is located in Westown in downtown Milwaukee, he is a member of the Westown Association Board of Directors and BID 21, the Downtown Neighborhood Business Improvement District. As a downtown business owner, George is heavily invested in the success of downtown Milwaukee and in particular Wisconsin Avenue. Although Kahler Slater works across the globe, most of its employees live and work in Milwaukee. Wisconsin Avenue is a key to invigorating the business and cultural center of the city. George is interested in the revitalization of downtown Milwaukee and as such has been invited to serve on the Mayor's Task Force on West Wisconsin Avenue, participated in the Strategic Actioning Session for Wisconsin Avenue, and is now an inaugural board member of WAMDC.
