Whereas, One in four women will have an abortion during their lifetime, and people across the gender spectrum receive and rely on abortion care; and

Whereas, The 1973 U.S. Supreme Court ruling in Roe v. Wade made access to safe and legal abortion a constitutional right in the United States; and

Whereas, Seventy-two percent of people nationwide oppose overturning Roe v. Wade according to a Marquette Law School poll from January, 2022; and

Whereas, The U.S. Supreme Court is expected to rule this summer on Dobbs v. Jackson's Women's Health, and overturn Roe v. Wade's protected right to an abortion; and

Whereas, Wisconsin has a 173-year-old criminal abortion law still in its statutes that could immediately go into effect if Roe v. Wade is overturned, effectively banning all abortions in the state by making it a felony to perform an abortion with no exceptions for rape, incest, or the health of the pregnant person; and

Whereas, In 2018, there were 6,042 abortions performed in Wisconsin; and

Whereas, If abortions are banned in Wisconsin, anyone seeking abortion care will need to travel out of state; and

Whereas, Those who cannot afford to travel, take time off work, or obtain childcare will face severe obstacles to obtaining abortion care; and

Whereas, Should Roe v. Wade be overturned, communities of color, low-income communities, people who are disabled, immigrants, young people, people living in rural communities, and members of the LGBTQ+ community will be among the most disproportionately affected populations; and

Whereas, Abortion care is health care; now, therefore, be it
